Join us on June 15 for the N.C. Tree Farm Program's 2024 Annual Meeting at the Wake County Wildlife Club in Durham.

The Wake Country Wildlife Club, a 191-acre certified Tree Farm, is a 501(c)4 organization that promotes wildlife and natural resource conservation and education. Their annual Dixie Deer Classic raises funds to:

- send kids to Fur, Fish and Game Camps that help develop a lifelong appreciation for the wonders of wildlife and natural resources.
- support Hunters for the Hungry, which provides venison for 12,500 meals each year.
- maintain a facility where they have educated more than 9,000 students through hunter education programs, Becoming an Outdoors Woman events and specialty courses in tree stand safety, trapping and archery.

The 2024 N.C. Tree Farm Program's Annual Meeting will include a field tour focused on hunter safety, prescribed burning, timber management and enhancing wildlife habitat. Our awards ceremony will recognize Tree Farm anniversaries, the Inspector of the Year and the Outstanding Tree Farmer of the Year.

Register by June 5.

Agenda

- 9:00 Check-in Opens
- 10:00 Welcome and Overview of the Wake County Wildlife Club
- 10:20 Break
- 10:45 Tour Begins

Prescribed Burn Associations

North Carolina has seven prescribed burn associations that promote fire as a management practice. Learn about the services and tools they provide for landowners and how you can get involved with the PBA in your region.

Hunter Safety, Hunt Clubs and Landowner Liability

Learn about tree stand safety, the pros and cons of hunt club leases and what your liability is as a landowner when you have guests on your property.

Using Commercial Timber Management Practices to Advance Your Conservation Goals

Learn how you can use timber-harvest and cost-share income to pay for conservation work on your Tree Farm.

Managing Mix Stands, Hardwoods and Visual Buffers

Mixed stands offer great opportunities to enhance wildlife habitat and meet aesthetic goals. Learn about strategic techniques that can help you meet your goals in these stands regardless of the acreage.

- 12:45 Lunch
- 1:30 Awards
- Tree Farm anniversaries, Inspector of the Year and Outstanding Tree Farmer of the Year
- 2:00 Adjourn
